Vietnam counter-offensive

Two weeks after the beginning of the North Vienamese offensive, the most serious since the 1968 "Tet" operation, it seems that Saigon has finally succeeded in rallying its forces and, with massive American air support, mounted a counteroffensive. It is now expected that the Hanoi attack will spend itself in about four to six weeks. In such an issue Saigon may expect as its allies the mon-soons, American bombings, and the fact that the North's offen-sive will have lost its initial momentum by then. The Hanoi attack had three major goals. The first, to seize as much territory as possible in South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia; to demonstrate that the "Vietnamization" programme of the United States has so far failed to bring about any great increase in the ability of Saigon to take over its own defense; and finally, to weaken the will of the American people by reviving the anti-war campaign which had waned lately in view of the continued steady troop withdrawals.

drawals. Of the three, the last is the most dangerous politically for President Nixon. He had ex-pected to benefit by his Peking visit, the Moscow summit and the de-escalation of the Vietnam war to help him win the Novem-ber elections. The Peking trip ber elections. The Peking trip proved highly useful, but it is now overshadowed by the ominous events in Vietnam. On the eve of the Moscow summit, the Soviets have chosen to demon-strate their freedom of action by giving vast amounts of military aid to Hanoi, even at the risk of torpedoing the summit. Ameri-can public opinion has been aroused by the unending war, because the deterioration in the situation has halted the troop withdrawal, led to the resump-tion of air attacks on North Vietnam, and brought U.S. naval reinforcements into the Western Pacific.

Mr. Nixon hadly needs victory of some sort in South Viet-nam to justify the far-reaching nam to justify the har-reaching measures he has authorized. He its had to take a difficult deci-sion. He refused to leave Salgon to fight its battle quite alone, and at a tremendous risk to his own political position is seeking to keep an American commit-ment. Ultimatum for 8 this morning Peres instructs El Al to suspend operations

By ZE'EV SCHUL, Jerusalem Post Aviation Reporter and Staff

TEL AVIV. - The Economic Ministers Committee last night served an ultimatum on the striking El Al personnel that, unless they return to work immedia tely, El Al — the national air carrier — will close down as of 8 a.m. today. The dramatic news was broken at a late night press conference at the Shera-ton Hotel here by Transport Minister Shimon Peres, who had urged the action. The Jerusalem Post learn-ed last night that efforts were underway — with the Histadrut — to have the dispute settled during the night. Lyndon Johnson faced during the "Tet" offensive. In making the decision Mr. Nixon must as-sume that the present offensive from the North need not really prevent him from continuing to hand over military responsibili-ties to Saigon and progressively reduce the American role there, even if the schedule is delayed. Israel is bound to watch de-velopments in South-East Asia very closely, and above all the reaction to them of some seg-ments of the American public. Much of the credibility abroad of the U.S. is tied up in Vietnam or the U.S. is that up in victorial together with its troops. Mr. Nixon's stand will most likely pay off. South Vietnam, with American help, looks as though it should be able to fight off the present offensive, and not without the North suffering heavy losses. If this happens, Mr. Nixon will come to Moscow with better-stacked cards than he holds at the moment, thus assuring a better bargaining posi-tion for himself, and incidentally furthering his chances of being re-elected.

Bolivia F.M.: Barbie case still in court

THURSDAY, APRIL 13, 1972

Jerusalem Post Diplomatic Correspondent The French request for the extradition of former Gestapo chief Klaus Barbie is still being considered by the Bolivian Supreme Court, that country's Foreign Minister, Dr. Marlo Gutierrez said yesterday. "The proceedings are con-tinuing normally," he told a press he also expressed support for israel's demand for direct negotia-

Mr. Gutlerrez stressed at the press conference that the Barbie matter was entirely in the hands of the Supreme Court and that the executive could not interfere with its proceedings. U.S. TROOPS IN VIETNAM STAGE BRIEF REVOLT

PHU BAI, South Vietnam (Reuter) - Some Amer-ican troops staged a short-lived revolt yesterday by refusing to go out on patrol round this big U.S. air-base near one of the northern fronts of a Communist offensive,

After a heated argument with the colonel assemb-ling them into patrol units on the base tarmac, where On the rebellion was witnessed by newsmen, the men were taken back into the base.

A little later, however, the convoy was essembled again after the colonel had apparently convinced the men to go. The colonel told the newsmen as he went by: "We are going out into the field to do our job."

The men first refused to go out because they con-sidered the patrol "too dangerous." They also said they did not know the area.

The men told the reporters on the tarmac that they had only been notified the previous night that they would be going out into the bush on patrol "I'm afraid," said one of the men, "that this territory is full of booby traps and we don't know it."

Phu Bal is near Hue, which has been under pressure from Communist troops pushing eastwards from the foothills near the Laotian border.

Essentially the patrols are what U.S. troops are doing elsewhere in South Vietnam. There are still six combat battalions among the 90,000 forces still in Vietnam.

Some of them provide security for U.S. installations, which in most cases means patrols in an "area of operation" around the bases.

The Zim New York, first of a fleet of six ships, representing an investment by Zim of $150m. in container shipping, arrives in New York harbour on Tuesday for a special maiden voyage salute. The ship will open a new service between Israel, the Mediterranean, North America and the Far East.

THURSDAY, APRIL 13, 1973

Once the existence of an agreement has been brought to the attention of the court in one way or another, then, continued Justice Cohn, the court should restrain the prosecutor from pleading on the punishment until it has explained to the accused that any promises of a lighter sentence or of other benefits which come within the discretion of the court, are not binding upon the court. Thereafter, if the accused should wish to withdraw his admission, he should be permitted to do so. But even if he otherwise he will receive a more severe punishment or that he will elects to stand by his admission, the court should still treat it warily be charged with more serious offences, then the suspicion is likely and subject it to the test of free will; and should be particularly susto arise that he has not made the picious of an agreement which apadmission of his own free will (see pears to be the fruit of the abu R.v. LET THE DEPRIVEMENT-UNDER THE AEGIS OF THE LAW-STOP!

Why are we on hunger strike for the fifth successive day in front of the Prime Minister's office?

Because the Government is collectively responsible for the Tenants' Protection Laws, which should be changed!

Because the Prime Minister also heads the Labour Party and the Alignment who must initiate the immediate change of these laws by:

a. Fixing an Economically Reasonable Rent - Now !

FOR EVERY TENANT - rich or well off

FOR EVERY TENANT - who has not paid key money

(except the under-privileged in the Government's definition)

Huistin

FOR EVERY TENANT -- who live in unjustifiable conditions of overcrowding, according to the criterion to be fixed by the Government.

ACTION COMMITTEE

b. Deciding that tenants who did not pay key money, are not entitled to receive key money (except for the under-privileged)

Let the flaw of exploitation be removed from Israel!

Stop the shameful - and immoral - profiteering at the expense of the State which needs the means to solve social problems.

> For these principles we are fighting with all the means at our disposal !!

He decied reports that he had taken a soft line" in the Cabinet discussion on issuing job-freezing orders to the El Al maintenance personnel and by last night said he was considering "the most radical proposals" to tackle the problem. When someone in the audience asked: "Are you going to shut down El Al?." Mr. Sapir replied: "Don't jump the gun on the Economic Ministers' Committee discussions."

The Finance Minister described the spread of wildcat strikes in El Al as "a most grave test for us all." Should economic stability be shattered, "we may lurch into the abyss," he declared, claiming that the El Al strikers' demands entail rises of 95 to 106 per cent. "I am certainly not seeking to harm workers' interests. But what could happen if things get out of hand will do untold harm to the workers and to the State of Israel," Mr. Sapir said.

He was particularly incensed by the sudden strike measures adopted by those El Al personnel not directly involved in the wage ne-gotistions, deploring their "irresgotistions, deploring their "Irres-ponsibility in paralysing the na-tion's main link with the outside world." The Minister said he stood agralled at reports of the disorder-ly scenes which had resulted at Lod Airport, with unlucky tourists having to struggle to get home be-cause of the last minute cancellations.

Here his voice took on a sombre tone: "You know I am not among the most radical on security issues. But none of us knows what can happen comorrow. It is not unlikely that the enemy may gain encouragement from thinking that we are pursuing their wage demands. weakening. The defence effort still calls for tremendous efforts, and who knews what tomorrow сал bring.

NG SECURITY LULL "I realize that some people think that the Jull in the security situation means that our alertness and efforts can be reduced — well they are very, very much mistaken. We cannot afford to let up, and security remains the No. 1 priority in our national scale of values."

The Minister spoke critically of the Histadrut's weakness in handling the drawn-out wage negotia-tions. He compared the relatively harmonious stand of two years ago when all sides rallied to the "package deal," to the present signs of instability and dislocation,

Mr. Sapir noted that although a national wage agreement between employers and organizations and the Histadrut had been signed, nothing had budged since then. He regretted that the works commit-

Goldmann calls Israel approach 'provincial'

LOD ATRPORT. - Dr. Nahum Goldmann told reporters yesterday that he has decided to maintain his silence on political matters, as long as "there is no one to listen to my approach" in Israel.

But, he charged, Israells are con-cerned only with Israel's problems and fall to see them from a wider, more cosmopolitan angle. This, he said, was a "provincial approach."

Dr. Goldmann, president of the World Jewish Congress, said this just prior to his departure for Pa-ris aboard an Air France jet.

and this threatens the profitability of the company. "One can hardly say that El Al employees are below average on the scale of wage earners in this country," he said.

Company President Mordechal Ben-Ari noted that the three-day strike had cost El Al an estimated Recounting his earlier contacts with the Maintenance Works Committee, Mr. Ben-Ari said he had explained in a friendly spirit why the company would be unable to meet their demands in full.

"I want to establish the fact, once and for all, that the situation which the company finds itself in is due only to the illegal action taken by the Maintenance Workers Committee, which ignores the collective work agreement, the His-tadrut and the laws of the State." Mr. Ben-Ari nevertheless hoped that the personnel would resume negotiations. He noted there were now some 2,000 workers out on strike, which was tantamount to half the labour force of the company in Israel. Under these circumstances it would be impossible to operate the national airline in an ordered dashion.
